

To Our Birthparents,

Thank you for choosing life. Without someone like you, we would not have the blessing to be parents. Even though we cannot have biological children, we have experienced joy through adoption. We adopted our son, John through Covenant Care. We personally recognize the sacrificial love you have for your child by choosing adoption. We want you to know we are praying for you during this difficult decision. We cannot begin to understand the feelings you are experiencing, but we hope and pray that you find peace and comfort. Your decision to choose life is courageous and will impact our lives forever. We believe that God has a plan for you and your baby.

Brian (37) enjoys working with his hands. His passion is to restore old things and make them look new again. Brian can fix just about anything, and he loves to be outside. Above all, he loves being a dad. Brian looks forward to teaching his kids and making memories through his hobbies of fishing and cars.

Amanda (34) enjoys relaxing at the beach, cooking/baking for friends and family, and reading a good book. Amanda loves to make others feel special. Most of all, she loves being a mom and cannot wait to add a sibling for her son.

Brian has a bachelor's degree in aeronautical science from Embry Riddle. He is a manager and has been with his company for over 16 years. Amanda has a bachelor's and master's degree in early childhood education from the University of Georgia. After nine years of teaching elementary school, she now enjoys being a stay-at-home mom to her son, John (2).

We've been together since the fall of 2008. Brian proposed to Amanda at her parents on Thanksgiving in 2010, and we were married the following November. We just celebrated our 9th anniversary.

We live in a growing suburban town not far from a larger city. It has a hometown feel with a friendly atmosphere. We attend a Christian church where we serve and have established deep friendships. We have a very strong support system from our families and church community.

We always knew that we wanted children. After about three years into our marriage, we decided to start trying. After two years of infertility treatments, we realized that God's plan for us all along was adoption. We became parents in December of 2018 when we adopted our son. We are beyond blessed and feel God calling us to adopt again.

We know that God has a special plan for us as parents, and we cannot wait to see all He has in store. We promise to love and care for your baby. Jesus Christ adopted us into His family, and we will always show the same unconditional love to our children.

Love, Brian & Amanda
